LIVELY RUNAWAY.

ICE WAGON DEMOLISHED A BUGGY AND INJURES JIM MORGAN, COLORED.

There was a lively runaway this morning, about 8:30 o'clock, and Jim Morgan, colored, came near being seriously injured in the general smash-up that ensued.

One of the Henry Petter ice wagons was standing at Roger's grocery while the driver was putting in ice. The horses became frightened and dashed off in the direction of the park. When the Washington school was reached the team struck a small buggy, occupied by Jim Morgan, who saw the horses coming and tried to get out of their way. He was not quick enough and the big ice wagon struck the frail buggy tearing it to pieces. The rear wheels were splintered into fragments and the buggy is a total wreck. The horse attached to it, however, escaped injury.

One of the Petter horses was thrown to the ground and badly skinned about the legs. The driver, William Bush, came out and unhitched the horses, waited until their fright had abated and then drove on with his load of ice. The runaway created much excitement and when Morgan was thrown from the buggy when the collision came it was thought he was killed, but other than a slight bruising he is uninjured.

BLOODLESS FRAY.

UNKNOWN MEN FIGHT AND ONE SHOTS, BUT MISSES.

There was a lively shooting scrape in the red light district last evening about eight o'clock but no one was injured and the participants made their escape to parts unknown. All that could be learned by the authorities about the affair was that two men, one from Fulton and one from Mayfield, had become involved in a quarrel and one had pulled his pistol, and shot at the other. Officers Beasley and Friant, who are stationed on that beat, soon made their appearance, having been on another portion of their beat at the time of the shooting, but after a chase of several hours, failed to land their men. The officers led them a merry chase, however, and ran them nearly over the whole city.

LOST FINGER ENDS.

YOUNG MAN HAS THEM JERKED OFF IN A BUCKLE.

Mr. C. Hovekamp, the son of Mr. Henry O. Hovekamp, of the county, met with a very painful accident yesterday that deprived him of the ends of the middle and index fingers of the left hand. He was leading a mule to the stable when the animal became stubborn and jerked the boy off his feet. He was grasping the handle when the mule balked and the leather and buckle caught his fingers in a grip like hold and jerked off the ends. He came to town and had the injuries dressed by Dr. Frank Boyd.

WILL ACCEPT.

IT IS THOUGHT THAT THE KENTUCKY MEN WILL GET A LIGHT SENTENCE.

The attorneys for Clem Ferguson and Leslie Taylor, convicted at Metropolis for the killing of Marshal Crouch, at that place, have accepted the verdict of the jury, and the prisoners will be taken to Chester at once. The term of imprisonment is indeterminate, and will depend on their good behavior. It is predicted that they will be back home within a year. The number of years is from eleven months to lifetime.

CONDEMNED ANARCHY.

HOT INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN THE GRAND JURY IN BOYLE.

Danville, Sept. 9.—Circuit Judge Saufely, in his charge to the grand jury this morning, condemned anarchy in the severest terms, and said that he was surprised Pres. McKinley's assassin was not rendered limb from limb.

TOWN WIPED OUT.

BAGDAD, SHELBY COUNTY, DESTROYED BY FIRE.

Frankfort, Sept. 9.—The town of Bagdad, Shelby county, was almost wiped off the map by fire last night. The loss amounts to several thousand dollars.

DERAILED BY OBSTRUCTION. Eastland, Sept. 9.—Six cars of coal for the Carbonate mines were derailed at midnight by an obstruction placed by someone on the track.

MONUMENT COMMISSIONERS MEET. Frankfort, Sept. 9.—The Goebel monument commissioners are meeting this afternoon.

RAILROAD NOTES.

The Fill at Tennessee Street Nearing Completion.

Mr. Wallace Complimented—No Matters of Importance to Report Today.

The Louisville Times of Saturday has the following to say of a man very popular in Paducah: Mr. H. U. Wallace, the new superintendent of the Louisville division of the Illinois Central, made a record during the convalescence as a transportation man which places him away up in the estimation of local railroad managers. Mr. Wallace directed all of the improvements at the Seventh street station in preparation for the big event. He was so successful in handling the hundreds of extra trains and the many thousands of pieces of baggage without the least friction or loss of time, even in the greatest rush, that his competitors have been congratulating him, and his superior officers are delighted with his work. Mr. Wallace is one of the ablest men in the service of the great Illinois Central system.

Mr. A. D. Brooks, the I. C. water supply man, was in the city yesterday on business. He returned to Central City this morning on the accommodation train.

Mr. H. C. Eich, formerly general foreman of the Illinois Central shops at Louisville, but now of the Burnside shops in Chicago, passed through the city this morning from the south en route to Litchfield on business. This is his first trip through Paducah since his departure from Louisville.

Engineer Feeney, of the freight department of this division, returned from Chicago last night after a three weeks' vacation.

Mr. Frank Kennens, of the yardmaster's department, is on the sick list today.

The section gang is at work graveling and grading the Illinois Central Tennessee street fill today. The work will be completed and ready for traffic today but the fill being made by the city will not be ready for use before the expiration of several days. The dirt work will be finished today or tomorrow and then the graveling and grading will be commenced. It will require more time to grade and gravel the city fill as it is much larger than that of the railroad.

KILLED BY A TREE

Tragedy at Golconda Two Years Ago Now Recalled.

Young Man Wanted For Murder Dies in South Carolina.

Charlie Dixon, the young man who killed John Peck, a brother of Captain A. A. Peck, in the pilot house of the City of Golconda two years ago at Golconda in a quarrel, was killed in Hickory Grove, South Carolina, a few days ago, by a falling tree.

The killing occurred one afternoon late on the boat, Peck being shot in the head. The exact cause was never known.

Dixon went to Golconda and gave himself up, but the Illinois authorities claimed as the killing occurred in midstream, Kentucky had jurisdiction and Dixon was not arrested, and skipped out, being heard of no more until the news of his death came. He was bookkeeper for a timber concern when killed. His home was in Golconda and he has many relatives in Southern Illinois.

WIFE SUICIDES.

SHOT HERSELF OVER FAMILY TROUBLES.

Ashland, Sept. 9.—Mrs. Charles White, the pretty wife of a young farmer residing near here, suicided with a pistol. Family troubles is the supposed cause of her deed.

COURT AT FRANKFORT.

HOWARD CASE EXPECTED TO BE CALLED TOMORROW.

Frankfort, Sept. 9.—Circuit court convened here this morning, with a large attendance and a great deal of interest manifested. The Howard case will in all probability be called tomorrow morning, and go to trial.

CHILD PAINFULLY HURT.

The little daughter of Mr. Pete Derrington, of South Seventh street, fell from a porch yesterday and badly injured her head. The accident happened in the country and the little lady was brought into town when her injuries were dressed by Dr. Robertson. She was suffering very much last night from concussion of the brain but is much improved today.

SCHOOL BEGINS

The Attendance Today is Unusually Large for the Opening Day.

SUPERINTENDENT IS BUSY

The Tenth and Eleventh Grades Have No Place for Their Books.

A LARGE GRADUATING CLASS

The Paducah public schools opened this morning with an attendance about the same as last year, but before the expiration of the week, the attendance will, it is thought, reach a number larger than ever before enrolled in the city.

The superintendent was busy from daybreak until noon issuing entrance cards to those who were regularly promoted and also examining others for entrance cards. His office was packed with pupils and their parents all the morning and afternoon. The attendance will be larger this year for the reason that there are few private schools in the city and those who have been attending private institutions will have to go to the public schools. The teachers were all present, with the exception of Mrs. Minnie Herndon who is ill and the morning was spent in enrolling and giving out list of school books. At 10:15 the schools were dismissed to enable the pupils to get their books and report this afternoon for regular school instruction. Heretofore the teachers had done nothing towards teaching the first day but this has been done away with and the instructors settle down to business the first day.

The tenth and eleventh grades are still in a bad condition. The seats for their rooms have not yet arrived and the pupils were occupying chairs this morning. There was no place to store their books and they had to sit holding them in their laps. The desks were taken from these rooms at the close of the last term and placed in other rooms. New and larger desks were then ordered for these grade rooms but they have never yet been heard from and it is not known that they have yet been shipped. The graduating class this year will be larger than any of its predecessors and thirty are already enrolled with prospects for an increase of at least half a dozen.

The local school book dealers were rushed all day long and the crowds will continue for the next several days. The German school at the new building adjoining the German Lutheran church began this morning under Prof. Schmidt, with a large attendance. It promises to be one of the most successful of our schools.

BUFFALO BILL.

The Favorite Is Coming to Paducah Oct. 3.

Reported That Two Good Circuses are Also to Appear Soon.

Buffalo Bill is to be in Paducah on October third. The agent, Mr. S. H. Semon, was in the city yesterday and made arrangements to be here on that date. It has been several years since this monster aggregation was here, and its coming will be learned with a great deal of pleasure by the many admirers of Buffalo Bill. It is reported that the big circuses of John Robinson, now touring Kentucky, and of Forepaugh, will also be here in the near future, but the exact dates are not known.

Mr. Semon left yesterday to visit a neighboring city, but will return tomorrow and make further arrangements for the appearance of Col. Cody with his cowboys and Indians.

OPERATION A SUCCESS.

Dr. Frank Boyd was called to Lovelaceville yesterday to operate on a very difficult subject and remove large bones of the leg which had become diseased. He was assisted by Dr. Baker in the operation and it was successful in every respect. The patient was put under the influence of chloroform and the operation performed without a hitch. The leg now rests between two sand bags placed there to hold the limb in shape until a new formation comes.

TODAY'S NEWS IS MOST CHEERFUL

Fresh Hope Is Born With the Fleeting Hours, and Grows Stronger as the Day Advances.

The President Has Exhibited no Unfavorable Signs, and Sanguine are the Hopes for His Ultimate Recovery. Mrs. McKinley Bears Up Courageously.

GENERAL SOLICITUDE IS EXPRESSED EVERYWHERE

ENCOURAGING START TODAY. Buffalo, Sept. 9, 9:25 a. m.—The president's condition at 9 a. m. is most favorable, and growing more so. Though he was slightly restless last night, his condition this morning is considered most favorable.

ABNER MCKINLEY ARRIVES. Buffalo, Sept. 9, 11:21 a. m.—Abner McKinley and family arrived today, going direct to the brother's bedside. There is great rejoicing over the good news from the president. The weather is perfect, and a great aid to the patient's recovery. No untoward events have occurred during the morning. The president is perfectly conscious and frequently speaks to those about him. Mrs. McKinley still does not know the facts of the president's injury. She thinks he was hurt at the exposition grounds.

A HOPEFUL OUTLOOK.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 9.—Through the quiet, peaceful Sabbath, every word that came from the big vineclad house in Delaware avenue, in which the stricken chief magistrate of the nation lies battling for life, was reassuring and today the chances of his recovery are so greatly improved that all of those who have kept the patient vigil at his bedside feel strongly that his life will be spared.

Not the slightest premonitory symptom of peritonitis appeared and the fresh hope born with the morning grew stronger and stronger as the day advanced until this afternoon the confidence expressed in the president's recovery seems almost too sanguine.

NOT OUT OF DANGER.

And the newspaper men, many of whom have been at their posts for 48 hours continuously, remained steadfast throughout the day in the little white walled tents across the street from the house where the president lay, and flashed the news over land and sea. And yet, despite all this optimism, the president is by no means out of danger. Not one of his physicians; not one of his advisers who is admitted to the inner councils, has the temerity to go so far as to declare that he is.

NO FEAR OF THE BULLET.

But if he continues to improve through today the danger of peritonitis, which is most dreaded, will have practically disappeared.

One of the doctors thought 48 hours would be the limit of the danger from that source, but his more conservative colleagues believe at least 24 hours, possibly 36 from yesterday, must elapse before the possibility of peritonitis shall have vanished. That disposed of, still other complications may arise. Blood poisoning might set in or an abscess form where the bullet is imbedded in the muscles of the back.

Thus far the ball of the assassin, which is still in the body, gives the physicians no anxiety. But if the slightest inflammation appears in the region of the lead the bullet will be immediately extracted. No difficulty is anticipated in this regard. One of Edison's best "X-ray" machines and his most skillful and trusted operator, Dr. H. A. Knolls, arrived today. The batteries were charged and the machine is ready for instant use. With it the physicians say there is not the slightest doubt that the ball can be located perfectly for an operation. They do not deem it advisable to say any of the president's strength at this time. All his reserve force is needed now to resist the danger of peritonitis and septic poisoning. Besides if inflammation does not set in around the bullet, it will soon become encysted.

PATIENT TAKES NOURISHMENT.

Yesterday for the first time nourishment was administered. It was in liquid form and was injected hypodermically to avoid the possibility of irritating the walls of the stomach. The exterior wound was dressed and is progressing satisfactorily. All day the members of the cabinet and others associated with the president in public life came solicitously and went away almost jubilantly, all reflecting the hopeful outlook at the Milburn house.

THE BULLETINS ARE AUTHENTIC.

Vice President Roosevelt received the earlier bulletins, and after going

HIGH TRIBUTE

Dr. G. W. Briggs Discourses on, "Why the President Was Shot."

A LARGE CONGREGATION

He Pronounces a Glowing Eulogy on Our Popular Executive, President McKinley.

TELLS WHY HE WAS SHOT

At the Broadway Methodist church yesterday morning a large congregation heard the eloquent Dr. G. W. Briggs in his masterly tribute to President McKinley. Having read the eleventh Psalm as a lesson he took no text but spoke in substance viz: It is perhaps the one tragedy for which the world was least prepared: The president of the greatest and freest country on the earth, in a time of peace, standing in the midst of ten thousand tokens of the happiest and most prosperous period, stretches forth his hand to greet his fellow citizens as first among equals, and is shot down without provocation and without warning! What explanation, if any, can be given of such a catastrophe?

1. It is a part of the price men pay for simply being eminent. It is natural to think that to be great is to be happy. But as a rule the man who climbs leaves the flowers behind and the fragrant vales, going upward to cold bleak summits. It is in the valley the sun shines warmest; and there the heart's ease blooms.

2. It is a part of the price we must pay for free institutions. As a general incarnates an army and its cause, so the president incarnates the people and their institutions. Soldiers can protect their general, but alas! in this other form of the battle of freedom we cannot protect our president. He must take the whole risk. But we might give him a body guard or keep him away from the people all together! No, that would only increase his danger as well as materially change the very institutions for which he stands. But could we not enact a law making an attack upon his life a crime of special odium? No, we cannot turn our faces toward the dead days of sedition laws. A free republic must go forward not backward. The truth is he cannot be protected. If the love of his countrymen, and the spirit of liberty cannot shield him then he must take the risk, and we must take it with him. He and we are shut up to this: He must discharge his duty so faithfully and fearlessly that if he falls, he falls at his post, leaving to his countrymen this alleviation, that he was worthy of the place he filled. And has William McKinley fulfilled these conditions? It is not a time for eulogy. Any words were out of place today that are not as simple, strong and manly as the man himself. And it is not easy to speak these. For while it would be difficult to find any man in modern public life concerning whom an admiring testimony has been so uniform, beyond a few salient traits—his self-restraint and thoughtfulness for others; his devotion to his wife, which in its simplicity, constancy and dignity has touched the hearts of the whole people; his good nature, "that peculiarly American quality" as a New England poet has called it, weak, of course, if misapplied but beautiful in its own genial place; and his religious faith and consistent Christian life—beyond these few salient traits there is little in his character that lends itself to description. But this does not mean barrenness but fullness. His great force is in his personality. It cannot be defined, this marvelous force—personality! It is not learning nor culture; it is not brilliance nor persistence; it is not wealth nor the power to make it, it is not a matter of striking presence or of honored lineage. It is a power purely spiritual. You now and then meet a man so genuine, so trustworthy, so—who can say?—that you insensibly follow his leadership, you do what he wants you to do! Do you say that this does not appear to be the highest and most effective equipment for a statesman? The history of nations, especially of our own nation, proves that it is. The explanation is simple: When we are what we ought to be, the things we ought to do will be clear and the strength to do them at hand! Have we not seen it work miracles? We have seen within living memory a man of humble birth and ungainly manners, of little culture beyond what his own genius supplied, become more absolute in power than any monarch in modern times through the reverence of his countrymen for his personality. What made Abraham Lincoln the idol of his people and the glory of his generation?

UNIVERSAL INTEREST EXPRESSED.

The interest in the president's condition was such across the Canadian border that the Associated Press was asked to furnish a bulletin yesterday to be read in the churches of Quebec and Montreal, and many requests of a similar character came direct to Secretary Cortelyou from different parts of the United States.

The messages of sympathy from all over the United States and all over the world, in fact, have fairly overwhelmed Secretary Cortelyou. Two more white house stenographers have been sent for, and upon their arrival, perhaps, tomorrow, some of the more important messages will be made public. Almost every government in the world has been heard from, most of the crowned heads of Europe sending personal messages. Among the latter are King Edward VII, Emperor William, the kings of Portugal, Italy and Sweden and the Sultan of Turkey. President Loubet of France, has also cabled his sympathy direct. One of the most touching messages thus far received was from Madame Labori, the wife of Maitre Labori, who defended Dreyfus in his famous trial at Rennes.

SAW THE ASSAULT.

Lexington, Sept. 9.—Sam Kash, a well known Clay county lawyer, witnessed the assassination of the president. He had just shaken the presidents hand, and tells an interesting story.

THE PRESIDENT WILL RECOVER

Buffalo, Sept. 9, 12:42 p. m.—Encouraging news continues to come from the Milburn house during the day, and hopes rise higher and higher as it is fully realized that the president is safely passing the danger line. The feeling is prevalent everywhere that he will get well.

MRS. MCKINLEY IS TOLD.

New York, Sept. 9, 2:22 p. m.—A Buffalo dispatch says: Mrs. McKinley has been told of the facts of the assassination and bears up with remarkable

DAILY THOUGHT.

"There are thousands of people in the world today wasting their lives in frivolity and amusement into whose minds there has never dawned a single consciousness of the noblesse oblige due to their fellow man."

SOUTH AMERICAN WAR.

The first real act of war in the Venezuela-Colombian imbroglio occurred Saturday when a Venezuelan fleet opened fire on Rio Hacha, an important Colombian port. It is feared that an Ecuadorian expedition will attack Panama simultaneously.

The political and military history of the countries involved is somewhat confused and when they fight it is never an easy matter to determine what they are fighting for. Political intrigues are something of a continuous performance down there. Venezuela was first invaded this time it seems by several thousand Colombians. Emilio Fernandez, who is leader of the Venezuelan revolutionists and had been living in retirement at Caracas, has left to take part in the invasion of Venezuela. The supposition is, from the manifesto of the Colombian rebel leader, General Rafael Uribe Uribe, that he has been working in collusion with President Castro, of Venezuela, and President Alfaro, of Ecuador, to achieve a federation of Venezuela, Colombia and Ecuador, to which the Colombian government objects. It seems that the troops themselves are divided in their sentiments, the insurgents of one republic being aided by those of the other.

The three states, Colombia, Ecuador and Venezuela, were once one, and as one state gained independence from Spain in 1819. In 1831 they separated and have since remained independent governments. Their respective areas are: Colombia, 305,000 square miles; Venezuela, 324,000 square miles; and Ecuador 120,000 square miles with a total population of 9,000,000. If united they would form the third state in importance in South America. It is doubtful that they could ever maintain a federation for any length of time, however, for the people are too restless and fond of revolutions.

The United States has taken ample precaution to protect American interests and keep the Isthmus open to free passage, as bound to do by treaty. It is probable that the good offices of the United States will be used to stop hostilities before any great damage is done.

Another popular outbreak against anarchism may now be expected in the United States, but the pessimistic take a rather disconcerting view of the situation so far as any material results are concerned. The American people are quick to respond to the better impulses with which every man is imbued, after such an outrage as that perpetrated at Buffalo, and for a time the agitation will be ominous for all those benighted beings who seek to destroy life, property and even law itself. But viewed from a reasonable but perhaps cynical standpoint, there will be anarchists as long as there are people; and as long as there are anarchists, there will be occasional deeds to stain the history of nations, and take away some of our greatest men. History shows that murder and assassination will obtain, no matter what precautions are taken, despite the safeguards formed by law and society. If the foreigners were excluded there would still be left those anarchists who are among us, and the country is so large and the ways of the anarchists so dark, they would devise the means of getting into the country notwithstanding the most strenuous efforts that might be exerted to keep them out. Anarchism, like other crime, is something that will perhaps endure forever, or until it is eliminated by education. The most drastic measures have failed to stamp it out in other countries and there seems to be little prospect of its being successfully discouraged here.

Of all the tributes paid President McKinley, one of the best is from a southern man, Governor Allen D. Candler, of Georgia, who said: "I served with the president in congress six years. He is one of God's noble men. He is a clean man, an honest man, and a great man. A federal soldier—yet all confederate soldiers respected and honored him. His assassination is appalling and his death would be a world-wide calamity. He is a brave man, a man of rare moral courage. He has always been brave enough to speak what he believed to be the truth. He has, too, had that rare courage to abandon error when he discovered that he had fallen into it. He has done more to bridge the bloody chasm between the sections than any man since Lee and his veterans surrendered. He was wise enough to know at the beginning of the war with Spain that they are as true to the republic as the people of his own state, and he trusted them to the same extent, knowing that the national honor is as safe in their hands. God grant that he may be spared for the sake of our country and for the sake of republican institutions and human liberty throughout the world."

Governor Voorhees, of New Jersey, is out in a declaration that the bloodthirsty anarchist of New Jersey must go. The incubations of the red-handed assassins and destroyers of law and order, he avers, can no longer have their inception in his state. A law is to be passed enabling the authorities to punish in New Jersey, men who have a hand in any plot, wherever consummated, whether in America or Africa. Gov. Voorhees says further: "I am now in correspondence with the state authorities of three European countries who have written to me saying that their secret service men have found that plans to assassinate conspicuous political figures in their respective countries have recently been hatched in Paterson. I will not give the names of the heads that are supposed to be thus threatened for that would defeat my scheme to ascertain whether the murderous plots were really originated in New Jersey. But I am determined that the name of New Jersey shall no longer be associated abroad or at home with such dastardly plots."

Mr. Peter Arlund, who had an option on the Shelbyville and Bloomfield railroad, which was sold to the L. and N., has filed suit against the two roads for a deed to the Shelbyville branch, and for $173,721.97 damages from both roads and for $175,000 from the Shelbyville road. He may possibly get the ninety-seven cents. Mr. Arlund is the gentleman who started the Paducah Iron furnace here last year. If he can't run a railroad any better than he did an iron furnace, he ought to be glad the property was sold to some one else.

The educational campaign against spitting begins to show encouraging results. A man who recently offended in a New York ferry boat suddenly realized that twenty pairs of eyes were regarding him as if he were a pickpocket. Greatly embarrassed, he flushed and slunk away to the men's cabin. Concentrated public disapproval seldom fails of its just effect. The plan's worthy of a trial everywhere.

The monthpiece of Tom Campbell and the Goebels, the Courier-Journal, is out with advance sheets of the evidence in the approaching trial of Jim Howard, and says "the evidence against Taylor is overwhelming and convincing." Is it possible that Barber Weaver, Finley Anderson and Robert Noakes are to play a return engagement?

The state board of valuation and assessment has decided that all life, fire and marine insurance companies, investment companies and similar corporations must under the statutes of Kentucky report their franchises for valuation and assessment.

We are told that the name of the would-be assassin of President McKinley is hard to pronounce, but few people care to utter the name of such a base scoundrel.

It is perjury, not proof, that the prosecution in the Goebel cases expects to use in the trials of the alleged assassins.

The peace protocol has been signed by the powers and China, and the goose hangs high.

CARLISLE REPUBLICANS

COUNTY TICKET PUT OUT THERE SATURDAY AFTERNOON.

Bardwell, Sept. 9.—The Republicans of Carlisle county met here Saturday afternoon and nominated the following county ticket:

County Judge, Geo. W. Boswell; sheriff, Geo. M. D. Brooks; county clerk, Geo. G. Witty; Assessor, Frank Graves; superintendent, Austin Groomwell; jailer, Marion Hogancam; coroner, Rowland Green.

GLASS SHATTERED.

PRESIDENT'S SALUTE MADE
MRS. MCKINLEY SOME-WHAT ILL.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hubbard, who have just returned from a trip through the east, were on the train which bore President and Mrs. McKinley to Buffalo last week. The President's salute was fired so near that the concussion shattered the glass in the windows of the President's car, and this had such a disquieting effect on Mrs. McKinley, that she was not in as good condition to stand the subsequent shock of the attempt to assassinate the president as she might have been otherwise. She is said to be standing the ordeal well, however, and her condition is not serious according to today's reports.

YESTERDAY'S BASEBALL

THE WOOD WORKERS DEFEATED
BY THE BROOK HILLS.

The Brook Hill and Wood Worker baseball teams met in a match game at the South Sixth street grounds yesterday afternoon resulting in a victory for the former by a score of 5 to 4. The game was cut short and only five innings were played. This makes the second victory for the Brook Hill boys but they had a hard time winning and their opponents deserve much credit for their good work. The battery for the Brook Hills was Russell and Irvin and for the Wood Workers, Eicke and Jones.

TRIAL TODAY.

ONE OF TOM DUNN'S ASSAIL-
ANTS CAPTURED IN CAL-
LOWAY.

John Childress, one of the men who murderously assaulted Tom Dunn, of near Mahon, Marshall county, has been caught in Calloway county, but Weston made good his escape, and is supposed now to be in Tennessee.

Childress is a widower with five small children, and formerly lived in Graves county. His preliminary trial comes up today before Judge Shemwell.

LARGE CROWD.

THE TENT MEETING CONTINUES TO ATTRACT A BIG AUDI-ENCE.

There was another large and appreciative audience at the tent at Ninth and Broadway last night, the seating capacity of which is taxed every night. Mr. Beauchamp is tonight to deliver his famous humorous lecture, and on account of his contract with a bureau under whose management he travels, he will charge 25 cents admission.

SERGEANT BARD.

WELL KNOWN RECRUITING OFFI-CER HERE ON BUSINESS.

Sergeant R. C. Bard, of Louisville, who was here several weeks ago recruiting for the coast artillery service, was in the city yesterday on business. He is now stationed at Fulton recruiting for the army and will remain there until the 20th when he will go to California to enlist recruits for the service.

Mr. G. A. Stillman, a merchant of Tampico, Ill., writes: "Foley's Kidney Cure is meeting with wonderful success. It has cured some cases here that physicians pronounced incurable. I myself am able to testify to its merits. My face today is a living picture of health, and Foley's Kidney Cure made it such."

J. C. Gilbert.

A CHARMING DEBUTANTE.

The Courier-Journal of Sunday says of one of the season's charming debutantes who is well known here:

"Miss Elizabeth Baffett may be called a new comer in Louisville, as her family have lived here only a year, when her father formed a partnership with Mr. Alex P. Humphrey, during which time she has been attending school near St. Louis. She is one of the few brunettes of the season and is tall, handsome girl of striking appearance. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Burnett, formerly of Paducah, who recently bought Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Speed's home, on Fourth avenue, which they have improved and beautified very much this summer. She will first become acquainted with Louisville society at Miss Ethel Humphrey's flower garden, at which she will be one of the guests of honor."

Many New Autumn Goods Now on Display

Lots More
Coming

We're Preparing For a Great
Fall Business.

We have bought the largest lot of wool goods we ever owned before. We will be able to supply you attractive dress goods for 25c to $1.75 a yard. It's not all in yet, but much is on the way here.

A permanent wool dress goods sale. Special for this week. Some marvelously low prices. We have many three, four and five yard lengths for this week's selling. Here are two, three and four yard lengths of pretty plaid dress goods for 60c to 75c a piece, pieces that were formerly as high as 50c a yard; economical mothers will find these appropriate for school dresses.

There are eighteen five yard lengths of these worthy plaids, for school and home hard wear at from 75c to 95c a piece.

We believe that every economical mother with four to thirteen year old daughters will find remnants here this week that she will be glad she came to see about.

For One Week

We'll make a bargain table of cotton dress goods suitable for children's school wear. On this table you'll find a big assortment of cotton dress goods in two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight and nine yards.

From this table you may select useful dress patterns for almost any member of the family. The assortment of styles are bright and catchy, and the prices low enough to make it a money saving event to all who respond to this week's effort.

Try our snow white cotton batting, enough for a quilt, 25c.

Ladies' heavy fleece lined vests and pants—special quality for 25c.

Children's tip-top union suits, 25c. Removable and worthy ribbed hosiery for both boys and girls—all ages and sizes—not the how cheap sort, but the how good quality, at a straight 10c and 15c a pair price.

Shetland floss and Saxony yarn at away below last year's prices. The salesman who furnished our stock made us think there was a regular craze on Shetland floss, therefore we bought too much. The moral is: We'll sell it too cheap, just to get you to using it that you may help us get rid of our big stock. Do you understand? We believe you do. Then come here for Shetland floss and Saxony yarn. We're some very choice new belts at 25 and 35 cents each.

Observations

...at Random

A well known Paducah merchant made a recent trip east to buy his fall and winter stock, and during his stay had an unusual experience introducing the famous Kentucky mint julep to a lot of Yankees. He got in with a crowd of men and was enjoying the sights when some one suggested taking a drink. The others accepted and the crowd went into a saloon to refresh themselves. The Paducah man was the first to order his drink and called for an "old fashioned mint julep."

"Search me," the bar tender said, "I don't know how to make it, but if you will come behind the bar and show me, we might have one." The merchant did as requested and soon had the drink mixed. The others thought it looked so inviting they too would try one and ordered one each. They liked it so well that they stood up before the bar and imbibed the new found concoction the greater part of the afternoon, and when they left few could stand on their feet. The merchant says he will never mix another mint julep while east.

The man from Arkansas sighed as he communicated to the New Orleans Times-Democrat his retirement from service on committees. "I was living in Little Rock some years ago, and no committee was complete without my name. There was on one occasion a big function at the capital, and I was placed on an important committee. The hall was jammed with spectators, and we had every available hand in that part of the country.

One of my duties was to look after the bands, so that the music could be kept going. Another member of the committee had scattered the bands around the hall, and had placed one band up in the gallery. "I wish you would signal that band in the gallery to strike up," he said, to me, and I made my way down the aisle until I got to a point where the band could be easily hailed. I made the signal. The members of the band paid no attention to me.

I got excited and a bit angry, my signalling became more violent, and I went through a series of absurd arm movements, while my face was burning with embarrassment. I felt a man pulling at my coat tail, and as I turned around he said: "Excuse me, but are you waving at that band in the gallery?" "They are the biggest lot of block-heads I ever saw!" I said in reply. "Excuse me," he said again softly, "that is the band from the blind asylum."

H. C. Watkins, sexton of the Methodist church, Springfield, Pa., says: "My wife has been very bad with kidney trouble and tried several doctors without benefit. After taking one bottle of Foley's Kidney Cure was much better, and was completely cured after taking four bottles." J. C. Gilbert.

SMITHLAND COURT.

THE ROSS MURDER CASE COMES UP THERE TODAY.

The Ross case is set for today at Smithland and Attorney Bill Reed went up to appear in it. It is one of the most important criminal cases in Southwest Kentucky. A brother of Tom Ross, the defendant, is now serving a life sentence for the murder, which occurred at Grand Rivers when Walter Hookey was stabbed in the head. Hon. John K. Hendrick, of the city, is acting judge during the absence of Judge Nunn, who was called to Madisonville.

CONSUMPTION THREATENED. C. Unger, 212 Maple street, Champaign, Ill., writes, "I was troubled with a hacking cough for a year and I thought I had consumption. I tried a great many remedies and was under the care of physicians for several months. I used one bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar. It cured me and I have not been troubled since." J. C. Gilbert.

Three Presidents Have Been Shot Within Thirty-Six Years.

SHOOTING OF GARFIELD

AN EXTRA SESSION OF CONGRESS

Washington, Sept. 9: - Three presidents of the United States have fallen at the hands of assassins within the last thirty-six years. President Lincoln was shot at nine o'clock on the night of April 14, 1865, and died at 7:22 o'clock on the morning of April 15, 1865. President Garfield was shot on the morning of July 2, 1881, and after a lingering illness died on September 20, 1881. The shooting of President McKinley has occurred just six months and two days after his second accession to the presidency.

From the moment President Lincoln received the bullet of Wilkes Booth there was no prospect of his recovery. His devoted wife and members of his cabinet remained with him through that memorable night, when all Washington was a fever of excitement over the attempts on the life of Lincoln and Seward.

SHOOTING OF GARFIELD.

President Garfield was shot at the Pennsylvania depot in Washington, as he and secretary Blaine were about to depart for Long Branch. As the two distinguished men were passing through the ladies' waiting room two pistol shots rang out upon the air. Mr. Blaine saw a man running, and started toward him, but immediately saw the President lurch forward and fall. A moment afterward the assassin, Charles J. Guiteau, was discovered and was released with difficulty from the infuriated mob. When, in answer to his eager questions, his physician informed him that he had one chance in a hundred of living, he said calmly and bravely, "then, doctor, we will take that chance." Gen. Arthur was at New York when the news reached him late at night that the President had passed away. Among those who joined Gen. Arthur at that solemn moment were Elihu Root, now a member of the McKinley cabinet.

Mr. Blaine and his associates of the Garfield cabinet had telegraphed Gen. Arthur to take the oath of office. At two o'clock on the morning of September 21st Gen. Arthur took the oath of office, which was administered by a local official of the city of New York.

NO ACTING PRESIDENT.

The course pursued during the lingering illness of President Garfield appears to be a precedent directly applicable to the present condition of affairs. President Garfield without doubt was utterly incapacitated to perform any executive duty, although he was himself in a certain sense. There was no acting president at this period, and, in fact, the people did not desire one during such a critical emergency. The lessons of Garfield's death led to the enactment of a law on January 19, 1886, providing for a mode of succession to the presidency. This established that in case of the death or disability of both the president and vice-president, the succession should devolve upon members of the cabinet in the following order: Secretary of State, Secretary of the Treasury, Secretary of War, Attorney General, Postmaster General, Secretary of the Navy and Secretary of the Interior.

AN EXTRA SESSION OF CONGRESS. The new law made no construction of "disability." An important proviso of this law is that whenever the powers and duties of the Presidency shall devolve upon one of the persons named, that is, the vice-president or members of the cabinet, if congress shall not be then in session, or if it would not meet within twenty days, then it shall be the duty of the new President to issue a proclamation convening congress in extraordinary session, giving twenty days' notice of the time of meeting.

NO RELIEF FOR 20 YEARS. "I had bronchitis for twenty years," said Mrs. Minerva Smith, of Danville, Ill., "and never got relief until I used Foley's Honey and Tar, which is a sure cure for throat and lung diseases." J. C. Gilbert.

Large Order for Wire. A company at Ansonia, Conn., has just received the largest order for copper trolley wire ever placed in this country. The weight is more than 1,000,000 pounds and the destination is British India, where the wire will be used to equip one of the first trolley lines in that colony.

Concatenated Order of Hoo Hoo, Norfolk, Va., September 9 to 13. One fare for the round trip, via Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway. Tickets on sale September 7 and 8. Final limit for return September 15. E. S. BURNHAM, Agent.

Return of a College. President Hardy of the Mississippi Agricultural and Mechanical College, says there is not a boy in the institution who smokes cigarettes, and there are 400 students there. Six months ago more than half of them smoked, but he convinced them of the evil results, and they gave up the practice.

Ulcers, open or obstinate sores, scalds and piles, quickly cured by Banner Salve, the most healing medicine in the world. J. C. Gilbert.

Stayed Home Thirty Years. Erastus Hall is 62 years of age and lives in an old-fashioned dwelling, fifteen miles west of here, on the Danville and Springfield turnpike, in Washington county, Kentucky, and is remarkable as the statement may be he has not crossed the threshold of his own residence for thirty-five years.

Erastus Hall is a sober, industrious young man, and taught two or three terms in the public schools of Washington county. During the closing days of the civil war his father and mother died, and considerable property was left as his share of the estate. Among other property inherited by him was the old homestead of his mother.

ROOSEVELT CALLS.

Buffalo, Sept. 9, 2:25 p. m.—Vice-President Roosevelt and Secretary Wilson and other friends who called today say they believe the President will live.

HIDING IN CHICAGO.

Chicago, Sept. 9.—It is believed that Emma Goldman is hiding here.

Buffalo, Sept. 9.—3:25 p. m.—The same encouraging conditions are reported at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

TO STOP NOTORIETY.

The members of the cabinet are doing everything in their power to prevent the sensational exploitation of Czolgosz, because he undoubtedly craves notoriety, and because his fellow anarchists throughout the United States love it. They do not desire to place any stone in the path of the authorities who are laboring to unravel the plot, if any existed, and all the machinery of the government secret service will be used to aid the State authorities in the prosecution of their investigations. But by the direct request of Secretary Root, on behalf of his colleagues, the state and the police will not permit the prisoner to be seen or interviewed, nor will they discuss the methods or the results of their efforts to discover the originators of the plot. All that has leaked out from the jail shows that the prisoner is vain and boastful of his crime, and would, if given an opportunity, fill the newspapers with columns of his vapors.

Mayor Lang, whose telegram to the mayor of Buffalo was published Saturday, received the following reply Saturday night:

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 7, 1901. Hon. James M. Lang, mayor.

Conditions are more hopeful tonight.

CONRAD DIEHL, Mayor.

STOOD BESIDE HIM.

Mr. Henry Burnett, of the firm of Humphrey, Burnett & Humphrey, attorneys, in the Equitable building, probably saw President McKinley last of any person in Louisville, says yesterday's Courier-Journal. Mr. Burnett returned from Buffalo yesterday morning. He was within a few feet of the President on the exposition grounds Thursday afternoon.

"I never saw the President looking more cheerful or in better health," said Mr. Burnett, "but what impressed me particularly was the number of guards about him. I noticed that he was followed by two detectives, who remained close by his side, and by other special officers, some in civilian dress and some in uniform, who were more or less near the president all the time. As the great throngs exhibited nothing but friendliness and good will toward Mr. McKinley, I could not but feel that the extra precautions taken to guard him were rather uncalled for. But now I see that they were not great enough, complete as they were, to prevent an attempt at assassination."

AFTER EMMA GOLDMAN.

New York, Sept. 9.—The search for Emma Goldman is being kept up in every city in the country. The police now believe she was implicated in the plot against President McKinley.

THE ASSASSIN'S NAME.

Among a certain class of people the disgust and horror of the deed of the would-be assassin of President McKinley is enhanced by a contempt for his name. It is a name that appears almost impossible to pronounce, according to the English rules, but it becomes simple enough when it is known that "a" in Polish has the sound of "h" in English. The assassin's name is then pronounced "Cholgosz."

REVIVAL SERVICES.

AT THE CUMBERLAND PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH BEGAN YESTERDAY.

The revival service at the Cumberland Presbyterian church began yesterday morning. Dr. Hugh Spencer Williams of Memphis, who will assist the pastor, Rev. J. C. Reid in the ten days' series of meetings, preached an eloquent and powerful sermon in the morning on "The Sword of the Lord and of Gideon." He was taken suddenly ill in the afternoon and was unable to preach at night, but his place was ably filled by the Rev. J. C. Reid who gave a thoughtful and forceful exposition of the text "What Must I Do to Be Saved?" By powerful practical illustrations he showed that conviction and repentance alone were not necessary to salvation, with a simplicity and earnestness that even a child could have understood. He was listened to with great attention, and at the close several bowed for prayer.

There was no morning service today, but there will be preaching tonight at 7:30. Dr. Williams will not be able to come out, but the Rev. F. E. Hall, of St. Louis will fill the pulpit tonight. Dr. Williams will be in his place after this, as he is recovering from his illness.

Song and prayer service of twenty minutes will precede the sermon every night. There are already indications of interest in the meeting, and the preaching of so consecrated and eloquent a man as Dr. Williams and the work of the energetic pastor will bring great results. All are cordially invited. Day service at 9:30 a. m., evening at 7:30.
